- Permanent black ink pen--instructor uses a fountain pen. Micron or Staedtler permanent pens work well too. Whatever you choose, test the ink. Make a line, allow it to thoroughly dry, then brush it with water. If it bleeds it isn't permanent.
  - White Signo pigment liner
  - Dip pen with speedball C-6 tip, for fine lines
  - Reference Flowers, note: A handout on selection of flowers for this workshop will be emailed to registered participants no later than a week before the workshop.

Registered participants receive an emailed warm up exercise from the instructor the weekend before the workshop. This class breaks for lunch each day; bring a bag lunch or plan to eat at FKA café.

Please contact the Food and Handcraft Programs Team at foodhandcraft@asimn.org with any questions.
